

MRS. BLANCHE S. WAGSTAFF BRIDE OF MR. DONALD CARR

Her Poem 'Marriage' Read at Wedding Ceremony—Surprise for Society.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
MANHATTAN, N. Y., July 30.—Mrs.
Blanche Shoemaker Wagstaff of New York, who formerly was Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff, Jr., was married at Bide-a-Vee, her summer place here, to-day to Mr. Donald Carr of 55 West Forty-fourth street, New York.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Sidney R. Perkins of the Congregational Church in the presence of a few relatives and friends. There were no bridal attendants.

A novel feature of the wedding was the reading by the pastor of one of the bride's new poems, "Marriage."

The wedding will come as a surprise to the many friends of the bride, who is widely known as a poet of society. No announcement had been made of the engagement, and only a few relatives and friends knew of the approaching marriage. She is a daughter of Mrs. Henry Shoemaker of 26 West Fifty-third street, New York, and has one son, Alfred Wagstaff 3d, who lives with her. She and Mr. Wagstaff were divorced in Newport last December.

The bride made her debut in 1907, was presented at the Court of King Edward, attended the Queen's garden party, met Pope Pius in private audience in Rome, travelled extensively in Italy and the Orient, studied and wrote in Greek and went on several camping trips in the Sahara.

She is the author of six volumes of poetry. The last is named "Narcissus."
"Quiet Waters," a new volume, is to appear soon. Her poetic drama, "Alces-tis," was produced at the Hudson Theatre in 1910 by the Coburn Players and later played at colleges both in this country and abroad. She also is the author of several song successes, among them "Mother" and "Adoration." Several of her poems were published in THE NEW YORK HERALD under the name of Blanche Shoemaker and later Blanche Shoemaker Wagstaff.

The bride is editor of the Poetry Journal of Boston and contributes critical essays to a weekly literary review. During the war she went to France and Mrs. Donald Carr.

drove an ambulance for the American Girls' Aid Hospital near the front. She was one of the founders of the National League for Woman's Service and Fund for French Orphans. Her clubs are the Colony, Authors, Huguenot, Badminton and Pen and Brush.
Mr. Carr is a real estate broker in New York and a well known amateur golfer. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs.

Henry S. Carr and grandson of the late Gen. Alexander Shaler of the Sixth Army Corps of the Union Army during the civil war. He enlisted in the recent war and served overseas with the Twenty-seventh Division. He is a direct descendant of Robert Cushman, the organizer of the Mayflower expedition, and of Isaac Allerton, one of the early settlers in New York city. His clubs are the Ardsley City Society of Mayflower Descendants and Delta Kappa Epsilon.
Mr. and Mrs. Carr after the wedding breakfast started on an automobile trip to Canada, where they will pass part of their honeymoon at a fishing camp.
